

Report

Department of Political Science

Date: 23/11/2022

Venue: Panigaon OPD College

Time: 10:30 am – 12:30 pm

On the occasion of 400th Birth Anniversary of Bir Lachit Borphukan, The Department of Political Science and Philosophy, Panigaon OPD College, North Lakhimpur jointly organised a competition cum exhibition on 'DIY from Waste Materials'. The programme was anchored by Gyanashree Kotoky, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science and the Principal of College, Dr Suresh Dutta inaugurated the same. The Principal of the college who spoke on the greatness of Lachit Borphukan and on his life history, was highly satisfied with the innovative and creative mindsets of the students and announced to organise more of such programmes in the near future. He appreciated the departments for initiating these types of competition. The competition was organised in the open space to reflect how being eco-friendly we can enjoy residing amidst nature and at the same time developing an innovative, creative minds to live a minimalist lifestyle making optimum use of resources by reducing wastages. Almost 17 groups of participants took part in the competition cum exhibition where using oil bottles, paper boards, chip packets, plastic bottles, waste pieces of thermocol, unusual flour dough etc. made out creative items like hydrolic bridge, college's model, aquarium made out of unusable refrigerator's vegetable box, eco-friendly house designs etc. The students enjoyed taking part in it and stated of need of more such motivated yet creative programmes. The competition was judged by Mr Manash P. Khannikar, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Panigaon OPD College. The programme was started and ended by remembering Bir Lachit Borphukan. The Programme was successfully assisted by faculties of the two concerned departments of the college- Ms Pinju Maral, Ms Madhurima Dowarah, Dr Nijara Saikia and Mr Dhurbajyoti Dutta.

Glimpses of the event

